Non-Final Office Action

Claims 1-15 are pending. No claim is allowed at this time. Amendments are entered.

Summary of this Office Action dated 07/9/2007

1. Information Disclosure Statement
2. Copending Applications
3. Specification
4. 35 USC § 103 (a) Rejection
5. Response to Remarks
6. Conclusion
7. Communication

Information Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Copending Applications

Applicants must bring to the attention of the examiner, or other Office official involved with the examination of a particular application, information within their knowledge as to other copending United States applications, which are "material to patentability" of the application in question. MPEP 2001.06(b). See Dayco Products Inc. v. Total Containment Inc., 66 USPQ2d 1801 (CA FC 2003).

Specification

The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1616

Claims 1-15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HESSE et al. (US 5,472,957), DeLuca et al (WO 90/01321) and TJONDRONEGORO et al. (J. Dairy Sci, IDS reference). Both the reference individually teaches the treatment of osteoporosis by vitamin D compounds without hypercalcaemia, which embraces Applicant's claimed invention.

HESSE et al teaches a method of treating osteoporosis, hypocalcaemia or bone disease by vitamin D. The reference also teaches veterinary applications of the vitamin D compounds, which includes the prevention of hypocalcaemia in domestic animals, for example farmyard animals such as cattle and sheep especially cows and ewes. See the entire document especially claim 7 and 11, abstract, lines 46-67 in column 6, DeLuca teaches the use of vitamin D compounds for the treatment of osteoporosis. See summary of invention on pages 4 and 5. See last paragraph in example 2 on page 7. The results show insignificant incidence of hypercalcaemia or other metabolic disturbance with vitamin D2 therapy. See Table 2.

TJONDRONEGORO et al. teaches intravaginal delivery of the drugs and treatments. See the entire document especially Table 1 on page 2164, discussion and Tables and 3 on page 2165.

Instant claims differ from the reference in method of administration of vitamin D compound, which are drawn transvaginal administration.

Art Unit: 1616

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to prepare additional nonofficial compositions for the treatment of hypercalcaemia by any method of administration. The examples in the specification have been considered. Applicant is requested to explain more about the comparative study of vaginal administration versus oral administration such as in food. In absence of any criticality and/or unexpected results presently claimed invention is considered obvious over the prior art of record cited above.

Examiner notes, that one vitamin D compound has been used as shown in specification which does not represent all known or unknown vitamin D compounds as claimed. A single species is seldom, if ever, sufficient to support a generic claim. In re Shokal, 242 F.2d 771, 113 U.S.P.Q. 283, 285 (C.C.P.A. 1957). See also, In re Grimme, 274 F.2d 949, 124 U.S.P.Q. 499, 501 (C.C.P.A. 1960) (the naming of a member of a genus or subgenus is not a proper basis for claiming the whole group).

Objective evidence of nonobviousness must be commensurate in scope with the scope of the claims. In re Tiffin, 171 USPQ 294. A showing limited to a single species can hardly be considered probative of the invention's nonobviousness in view of the breadth of the claims.

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Response to Remarks

Applicant's arguments were fully considered but were not found persuasive therefore rejection is maintained.

Art Unit: 1616

Conclusion

2. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
